BOARD NOMINATION INFORMATION

Being a member of the Board of Directors of the Ontario Co-operative Association Inc. (OCA) is an opportunity for representatives from OCA Voting Member-Owner organizations to contribute their knowledge, energy and commitment to the well-being of co-ops and credit unions in Ontario.

Your involvement will give you broader and deeper experiences in the co-op sector and an appreciation of the benefits of co-ops, credit unions and sector stakeholders working together.

OCA will benefit from your expertise, skills and sector knowledge. Your organization will also benefit from the professional development and additional skills, experience and knowledge you will gain as a result of sitting on the Board and immersing yourself in strategic direction and governance of the organization.

About the OCA Board of Directors

The Board of Directors is elected from (and by) the membership of the Ontario Co-operative Association and has the statutory power and obligation as granted by our Co-operative's bylaws and the Co-operative Corporations Act. The Board sets and monitors the strategic direction of the Co-operative. The role of the Board is primarily one of stewardship and strategic visioning rather than operational support.

- The Board consists of nine directors; currently four of these nine positions are designated seats for members paying $50,000 or more in annual dues, as per Bylaw 6.01(g)¹ and five are Directors-at-Large.
- Officers include a Chair, Vice-Chair and Treasurer, and Secretary who are appointed by the Board.
- One Director-at-Large position is designated to a youth representative (25 years or age or under), with the same rights, responsibilities and obligations as all other directors.
- The Board works within an approved budget, hires and monitors the Executive Director and is accountable to the Members.

Eligibility

An individual from any Voting Member in good standing² may stand for election to the OCA Board. This individual must be a director, officer or individual member of the Voting Member, have their nomination properly submitted by their Voting Member Co-operative and meet the requirements under the Ontario Co-operative Corporations Act, and any additional bylaws and policies of the Ontario Co-operative Association. Only Voting Members (Member-Owners) of the Ontario Co-operative Association may submit candidates for election to the Board of Directors.

¹ As of April, 2017, organizations which pay $50,000 or more in annual dues are: The Co-operators, Central 1 Credit Union, Gay Lea Foods Co-operative, and GROWMARK, Inc.

² 'Member in Good Standing' means that all dues owing to OCA are paid in full or other invoiced amounts are less than 90 days past due.

Under the Co-operative Corporations Act, Director qualifications include:

- A majority of the directors on a board must be resident Canadians;
- Directors must be eighteen years of age or over; and
- People who are in a state of undischarged bankruptcy (bankruptcy proceedings are still underway) or who are mentally incompetent cannot be directors.

Term of Office

Directors are elected at the OCA Annual General Meeting. An OCA director serves for a term of three years. The youth representative sits for a term of one year. Vacancies, when they occur mid-term, may be filled by the OCA Board and the positions ratified at the next AGM.

Directors may serve a maximum of THREE, three-year terms. Directors who are appointed midway through the year or assume the term of another director are considered to be completing the term of the position recently vacated, and may consequently serve for less than three full terms.

DIRECTOR RESPONSIBILITIES AND REQUIREMENTS

The Board is accountable to:

- The current and future members of the Co-operative;
- Provincial, federal and other legislation; and
- The institutions that fund the Co-operative.

Fiduciary Duty and Duty of Care

The OCA Board's fundamental relationship is guided by a fiduciary principle that requires each director to act honestly and in good faith with a view to the best interests of the co-operative. In exercising their powers and discharging their duties, every director must exercise the care, diligence and skill that a reasonably prudent person would exercise in comparable circumstances. These principles require a director to put the co-operative's interests first, avoid conflicts of interest and avoid exploiting business opportunities for self-interest purposes.

Liability

- The Co-operative carries a reasonable amount of directors' liability insurance for each board member.
- The co-operative will indemnify all directors and officers, and their heirs and legal personal representatives, to the maximum extent permitted by section 110 of the Co-operative Corporations Act.

Compensation

- Board members are not compensated and do not receive an honorarium or per diem for participating in board, committee or other meetings, conferences, workshops or assemblies or for representing the Co-operative.
- Reimbursement for direct expenses up to $500 per director per year will be available for those board members who cannot secure sufficient financial support from their organization or sector, and/or for whom the lack of financial support would preclude the individual's effective participation as an OCA board member.

The Role of the Board of Directors

1. Participate in the democratic structure of OCA (including creating, discussing and voting on proposals and assisting in policy-forming).
2. Delegated, by the Members, the authority to exercise all of the Board powers that can be legally exercised between General Members' meetings.
3. The authority, as provided by Members, to hold meetings and to exercise all of the Members' powers that can be legally exercised between Members meetings.

Participation in Meetings

Directors must be able to attend regular meetings of the Co-operative. Board meetings take place during the work-day between Monday and Friday. Within a one-year period, these normally consist of:

- One board meeting quarterly (meetings are generally 5-6 hours long)*
- Three-four board teleconferences or web-conferences (generally 1 hour long)
- One-two general members' meetings
- One newly-elected board member orientation session
- One Board retreat and/or planning session, generally 1-2-days long
- Participation in standing committees or task forces, most of which meet quarterly
- Teleconferences/web conferences and additional meetings as required

Directors should be prepared to attend at least 50% of scheduled board meetings in person. A summary of Directors' meeting attendance is provided to the membership annually.*
